Dear Art,

As per our CoLours TV/CoLours TV Asia license agreement, we would like to make the Champagne Chef show our first joint foray into the Japanese television market.

Beginning in April 2006, we would like to cycle Champagne Chef segments, (which are referred to as corners in Japan), into our popular Access E program airing weekly in Japan. The Access E program is in its second season on TV Kanagawa (9 million TV households) and will eventually expand to MX TV Tokyo (12 million TV households) when Access E is expected to join that network in May 2006.

We have also sent trailers of the show out to several Japanese television stations and have received interest from TVK and FOX TV Japan's FOXLIFE channel for a 30-minute version of the program for their viewers.

In addition, we would also like to air the Champagne Chef corners on both the new Access E Cuisine broadband site, which will launch in June 2006, and on the Access E page of the USEN Showtime site. USEN is Japan's largest cable provider and its Showtime site one of the largest broadband subscription sites in the country.

Finally, we continue to market a return trip of the Champagne Chef to visit U.S. military bases in Japan and Korea as part of our Duty Call series.

Best regards,
